

Marching Bands and Drumlines

Secrets of Success from the Best of the Best
by Dr. Paul Buyer of Clemson University

Do you want a better marching band?

What if you could spend this summer learning from the excellent college band programs at Ohio State, Alabama, LSU, Western Carolina, North Texas, Arizona, and Michigan State...

Would you go?

What if you knew the Five Factors Influencing Excellence that these college bands share...

Could they help improve your program?

What if there was a new book of research and insights from on-campus observation and cooperation from the band directors, staff, and students of those universities...

Would you want it?

What if the book was less than $20...

Would you even hesitate to buy it?

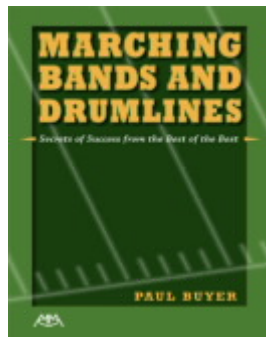

Dr. Paul Buyer of Clemson University recently spent his sabbatical with those bands and returned to write Marching Bands and Drumlines: Secrets of Success from the Best of the Best for the benefit of music educators everywhere.

In his book, Dr. Buyer explains the Five Factors Influencing Excellence that he found these top-notch programs had in common.

Spring is here, and with a copy of Marching Bands and Drumlines as part of your summer reading you'll be ready to take advantage of new concepts this fall.

To get more information, read a brief interview with Dr. Buyer about his book, and learn how its lessons can help your program achieve its goals, please visit...
